Obelisk Unveiled For 126 Defenders

REHOVOT, Wednesday. — Ahuf Moshe Zadok, Southern Area Commander, today unveiled a memorial obelisk to 126 Israeli soldiers who fell in one of the fiercest battles against the Egyptian army in 1948.

The site of the monument, the ruins of the Arab village of Huleik, was the scene of hand-to-hand fighting with enemy soldiers who were at that point repulsed from advancing into the heart of the country.

The memorial bears the names of the dead soldiers inscribed on two stone slabs resting on a platform of Jerusalem stones, with the monument rising 10 meters high.

The company and the Givati Brigade, to which it belonged and which fought in the Negev at the time, are cut in the stone.

Veterans of Givati, bereaved parents, and many officers and men of the Army, paid their respects to the memory of their dead friends and sons.

A message from Rav-Aluf Yigal Yadin, Chief of Staff, was read by his personal aide.

Sagan Aluf Shimon Avidan, who commanded the Givati Brigade at the time, was present. An Army Chaplain recited "El Malei Rachamin."

A group of children from nearby kibbutz Dorot, which had been defended by the fallen soldiers, placed wreaths at the foot of the memorial.

Jerusalem Bus Fares Go Up 16 Per Cent

The Controller of Road Transport, Mr. Michael Bar, yesterday announced a 16 per cent rise in Jerusalem bus fares, following the Hamekasher demand for a 20 per cent rise.

The Ministry of Transport agreement overrides the Jerusalem Municipal Council vote, taken on Tuesday night, which refused to grant Hamekasher the rise. It was claimed by Council that Hamekasher members warned such high salaries that their claim of an over-all "loss" could not be justified.

On lines serving Ma'arot and immigrant quarters in the suburbs of Jerusalem, a minimal increase has been made in fares: 45 pruta ticket to Talpuz, 50 pruta ticket to Bet Mammil has been raised to 60.

At the Council meeting on Tuesday night, the Hamekasher voted against the increase while nine abstained. Almost all the Left-wing Opposition were absent.

Those present united their condemnation of the Hamekasher transportation monopoly in the Capital.

Dr. P. Yaacobi (Progressive) whose report on Hamekasher formed the basis of the Council's decision, revealed that the 150 members of the cooperative earned an average IL-117 monthly, excluding overtime pay and other monetary benefits.

Hamekasher's contention that they suffered a monthly loss because of amortization, the high price of spares and tires, and the increase in petrol prices had no foundation whatsoever. The loss was computed only after a huge profit had been distributed. Dr. Yaacobi stressed that Jerusalem fares had been higher than those of Tel Aviv for more than 20 years without any justification.

Mr. M. Friedman, the sole representative of Ma'arot present, advocated handing the report on Hamekasher without comment to the Ministry of Transport, whose decision on the rise was anyway overridden by the Municipality.

Most Power Bans to Be Lifted—Except in J'lem

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — Most of the power restrictions will be lifted next week in all parts of the country except Jerusalem. It was authoritative-ly learned here today.

Among the restrictions which will remain in force will be those on the daytime use of water storage holders, which will be permitted only from late at night to early in the morning.

TIBERIAS COUNCIL CUTS BUDGETS

TIBERIAS, Wednesday. — The Town Council last night decided to reduce the development budget by IL-200,000 to IL-700,000, and the ordinary budget by IL-10,000 to IL-540,000. Income during the last five months had been much smaller than originally estimated, while it had been impossible to float enough loans to cover the development budget.

The council also decided to put another 50 workers on the municipality's 100-man payroll, and to demand help in finding employment for 400 unemployed from the Labour Ministry.

The council also decided to examine the legal possibilities of seeking an order against the Interior Minister, the Ministry of Welfare and the J.M.P. for the return of the Tel Aviv institution, which had been loaned by the Municipality to the Ministry, for a convalescent home.

Yugoslav Sculptor Gives Work to Israel

A marble head of Moses, gift to the State of Israel from its Yugoslav sculptor Ivan Meštrović, was presented by Dr. Dusan Bratic, Yugoslav Minister in Israel, to the Minister of Education, Professor Ben-Zion Dinur, in the courtyard of the Israel National Museum yesterday.

This head executed in 1915, is one of his many works on Biblical themes, and shows the combined influence of Grand Style and Gothic typical of his sculpture.

The Israel Council to Yugoslavia, Dr. Yoran, who also took part in the ceremony was entrusted with bringing the work to Israel after it had been presented to him by the Croatian Minister for Education.

Both Dr. Bratic and Professor Dinur lauded the veteran sculptor's choice of Moses, a law-giver and shepherd not only of his people but for all times and peoples.

7,000 Attend London Homage to Weizmann

LONDON, Wednesday. — A spotlight played on a host of Chaim Weizmann in a London hall and a Jewish male choir sang "El Malei Rachamin" last night as 7,000 persons paid homage to the late President of Israel.

Mr. Walter Elliot conveyed a message from Prime Minister Winston Churchill in which he said: "The death of Weizmann deprived Israel of its founder and the whole civilized world of an honourable citizen. I am proud indeed that I could him among my friends."

Eden Message

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in a message said, "The world lost a great man and the State of Israel a leader whose name will live. I should like to join in paying homage to his memory."

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Zionist Federation of Great Britain and Ireland. The chairman, Sir Simon Marks, said Dr. Weizmann was "a man who inspired the Jewish people throughout the agonizing period of our history."

Messages of condolence and tribute were also received from Mr. Chaim Weizmann, President of the Zionist Federation of Great Britain and Ireland, and from the Zionist Executive of the United States.

Zionist General Council To Hear Resolutions Today

The eight-day conference in Jerusalem of the Zionist General Council is expected to end tonight with the adoption of a series of resolutions, most of which were decided upon yesterday by four committees.

The budget, considering the IL-100,000, and the commission preparing a constitution for the Constituent Assembly, were yesterday. The commission studying Zionist work in the Diaspora as well as the Commission for Activities of the Executive in Israel are to convene at 2.30 this morning.

The primary meeting of the Council is scheduled for 1.30 this afternoon.

One of the chief stumbling blocks in the commission studying Zionist activities abroad is the problem of organizations, an issue that proved to be stubbornly difficult to resolve at last May's Council meeting and at the

Downpour Soaks Tent Dwellers in Camps

TEL AVIV, Wednesday. — Last night's heavy rain, the second heavy downpour this year, caused a great deal of hardship to the 2,000 new immigrant families living in makeshift tents which were not repaired for the winter. They are due to abandon them in the next fortnight for wooden huts.

In the Bakaia ma'arot today, five tents collapsed and their inhabitants moved to the Agency's offices there. In the 140 tents of the Hiriya ma'arot most of the tents afforded no protection against the rain and hundreds of persons were soaked.

Despite their plight, many small children actually living in the mud, many of the immigrants told THE POST today that they would not move to the wooden huts ready for them in Kfar Ana, three kilometers away. The move, they said, would mean far away from the main road to travel daily to Tel Aviv.

A number of families at the Tel Maad Ma'arot were reported to have been forced to take possession of unfinished buildings of the Neve Orde Housing Company in the neighbourhood.

MANDELSTROM ENDS TESTIMONY

HAIFA, Wednesday. — On trial for the murder of Meir Schiffman at the 'Ata' factory, Zelman Mandelstrom ended his testimony today as he concluded his three-day evidence. He said he had not intended to kill Schiffman, but that he had shot him because he had shot him dead and become known to him only when he gave himself up to the police.

Mandelstrom admitted that he had wanted to kill his girl friend, Leah Kravitz, because she had refused to marry him. He said he had shot her because he had shot her dead and become known to him only when he gave himself up to the police.
